So you're looking for a volunteering and team building event that's not like most others?

We've got you!

- ✓ Learn from a pastry chef.
- ✓ Bake some deliciousness.
- ✓ Spread some kindness.
- ✓ Have a great time.

what is it tho?!

You'll come along and settle into the beautiful Millennium venue kitchen to bake something delicious with the help of one of their very clever pastry chefs.

There will be 3 or 4 recipes to choose from with all the ingredients and tools ready to go, and you can decide whether this will be a mini team challenge or one for the whole group to complete together.

While the treats are baking, you'll relax with some snacks and drinks - you might like to discuss how to encourage small acts of everyday kindness in your workplace.

Once the baking is ready, you'll quality check it and then pack it up to be delivered to one of Good Bitches Baking's recipient organisations. You can decorate the boxes and include a note from your team on the back of our ingredients flyer to personalise the treats a little.

Good Bitches Baking is a network of ~3,000 volunteers around Aotearoa who bake treats for people having a tough time, distributed by about 350 organisations.

Millennium Hotels and Resorts delivers memorable experiences for their guests while purposefully contributing to the communities they are part of.
